CLEANED OUT MY CLOSET!

Ok, so I cleaned out my closet over the weekend. I had so many things that I kept thinking I'd wear them even though I never did. Some of it didn't even fit anymore and I had still kept it "just in case". So when I got to the shoes, I had a couple pairs of brand new shoes that I had never worn that were about 3 years old and one or two sizes too small. I normally like to use ebay for unused stuff but there's a site I like even more. It's called www.IfTheShoeDoesntFit.com.

Basically, it's an ebay for shoes and shoe accessories but you don't have to pay a huge fee. Instead it's only like $1 a pair. I love it and it's much easier to use than ebay. And if you use code SHOES you can get 5 free listings! Yay!

Anyways, I actually like it because I don't like running all over the town for shoes from different stores so I just scour through the listings on If The Shoe Doesn't Fit and I found so many pairs I love. I even saw Louboutins. Wonder who was selling those? Lol.

I am going to take the rest of my clothes to Goodwill this week. My closet looks so empty now.
