What to do if the Shoe doesn't fit?

Posted by kim on June 28, 2010

I think we've all heard the old adage "If the shoe fits, buy it!" and then the rendition "If the shoe fits, buy it in every color!" If not, then you must be living in a shoebox – pun intended. I'm all for good fitting shoes, and when I find a good fitting shoe, I do tend to buy them in several hues. For instance, how many pairs of Aerosole mules do I own now? Probably more than the total number of shoes most people own.

But what happens when the shoe doesn't fit? Usually they find their way to the back of my closet collecting dust. I hate to part with cute shoes that I spent good money on and still pine over sad that they don't fit. Well, now we can Sell, Swap, or Shop for Shoes at "If The Shoe Doesn't Fit" website! It's an auction site just for shoe lovers.

You can list new or used shoes for sale for only $1 per listing with no membership required. There are no extra costs for headlines, highlights or photos (unlike Ebay). In fact, you can post up to eight pictures per listing for free. There are also no closing or final value fees either (this is where the Ebay costs add up). If your shoe doesn't sell, you can auto relist your shoes for free as well.

I've found that shoes don't sell well at garage and rummage sales – you can actually get a bigger tax deduction by donating them to Goodwill or the Salvation Army. So I think this is a great idea! In fact, right now you can get two (2) free listings when you enter "Soles" on your "My Account" page to redeem coupon code.

I just registered – now watch me ended up buying more pairs of shoes than I sell!
