Sell, Swap, or Shop for Shoes

Posted by SavvyMama at 3:20 AM .

As we all know, women always have a fascination with shoes. Agree ladies? And I am one of those women who love to stock up on various kinds of shoes. I'm not concern of the shoe brand. I'm into quantity because I am cheap and I can't afford branded shoes. How many pair of shoes do you have? I am sure most of you own more than one pair of shoes. I have a fascination with shoes, and I love to shop for different styles of shoes. I would say I have flats, sandals, pumps, shoe boots, boots, and even evening shoes. I just purchased some new sandals because I thought I needed them for the summer season. It is getting warm here in California, so I might need them shortly.

Do you know that there's a great place to Sell, Swap, or Shop for Shoes and shoe accessories? You should check out iftheshoedoesntfit.com. In addition to using auctions to buy and sell, you can trade shoes. This website is awesome! I will definitely recommend this to all shoe lovers. If you also want to make extra money by selling shoes, this is the right place for you. Listings are easy to do. All you need to do is take pictures, create a listing, and post a pair of shoes. It is very affordable. It's only a $1.00 per listing. You can get up to 8 pictures per listing. The great thing is they offer a FREE auto re-listing if your shoes don't sell immediately. So what are you waiting for? Sell your shoes, shop for shoes you want, or swap your shoes with others!
