

If The Shoe Doesn't Fit

Sell, Swap, or Shop for Shoes

Women and shoes... I think men will never understand the connection. I love shopping for shoes and I'm always looking for more. I discovered a new auction site for shoes, www.iftheshoesdoesntfit.com. Buy and sell shoes to your heart's content. I spent only a few minutes on the site before I ended up registering.

You can find anything from shoes for work to shoes for those fun times like some of the gothic parties I love to attend. I already found Bordello Temptress boots on there at a price I'm pretty sure I'm not going to pass up. They will be great for Halloween and the gothic parties I attend all the time.

I was looking at the fees and it is a simple fee structure to get your own shoes listed and no hidden fees like I have found on other auction sites which shall remain nameless. That nameless auction site keeps getting worse with those hidden fees I might add. On this website you don't have to deal with hidden fees so it is easy to know how much it will cost you to list and sell some of the shoes you no long want without needing a degree in advanced math to figure out the cost. Confusing fee structures are a pain.

I will probably be listing some of my own shoes I no long have need for to help pay for the ones I have already bid on. Yes, I love auction and what is better that a shoe auction! I love leather boots too and I'm finding a lot I like on here. I must say they are half the price or less of full retail price too.

I know quality shoes at the right size can be hard for us to find. So I recommend checking this auction site out. If you don't find what you like you still might make some money selling shoes you no longer need.
